DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

a. Claims 6-12 and 73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sechrest et al in view of Ish and Gautier. Sechrest et al disclose all of the limitations of the invention including a frame, resistance engine, actuator and pulley/cable but do not disclose a seat on the frame or specifically a spiral pulley. Ish teaches, in an analogous art, an exercise unit with a seat. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Sechrest in view of Ish such that a seat on a frame provides comfort to the user while exercising. Regarding the spiral pulley, at the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the device of Sechrest by utilizing a spiral pulley because Applicant has not disclosed that a spiral shape provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with the pulley of Sechrest because the shape of the pulley serves no mechanical function and is capable of performing in the same capacity as a circular shaped pulleys. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Sechrest to obtain the invention as specified in claim 6.
